

Saturday February 13

Youth Ambassadors in Cambodia

It is Saturday Feb 13, 2010 about 6:30am. The weather has been around 90 deg warm and humid. We miss the frigid cold wind and the white stuff called snow. Really ??? not really. We are in T shirts and shorts, enjoying the warm breeze of Siem Reap, about five and a half hours drive away from Phnom Penh. We visited the silk farm yesterday afternoon. We are spending most of the day here visiting Angkor Wat.

We are very thankful to all of you for your prayers of travel mercies. We have indeed experienced several “God moments” already. Taking off from JFK on Wednesday afternoon during a snow storm was an incredible God moment experience. Watching eleven teens (6 girls and 5 boys) from different sections of our conference, (Connecticut, Westchester county, the Bronx, Manhattan, and Long Island) and with different cultural backgrounds, talking, playing and sharing together like one family is a testimony of God's love. It is a great joy for me to be a part of this special family of God and I look forward to sharing more of “God moment” experiences with you during our journey in Cambodia.
